The Word of God

A reading from the Wisdom of Solomon

3:1-9

The earth is the LORD's and all that is in it,
the world and all who dwell therein.

For it is he who founded it upon the seas
and made it firm upon the rivers of the deep.

Antiphon

"Who can ascend the hill of the LORD?
and who can stand in his holy place?"

"Those who have clean hands and a pure heart,
who have not pledged themselves to falsehood,
nor sworn by what is a fraud.

Antiphon

They shall receive a blessing from the LORD and a just reward from the God of their salvation."

Such is the generation of those who seek him,
of those who seek your face, O God of Jacob.

Antiphon

Lift up your heads, O gates;
lift them high, O everlasting doors;
and the King of glory shall come in.

"Who is this King of glory?"
"The LORD, strong and mighty,
the LORD, mighty in battle."

Antiphon

Lift up your heads, O gates;
lift them high, O everlasting doors;
and the King of glory shall come in.

"Who is he, this King of glory?"
"The LORD of hosts,
he is the King of glory."

Antiphon

The Sermon

Statement of Belief

Our God is the God of all humanity, of heaven and earth, of the seas and the rivers, of the sun and the moon, and all the stars, God of the highest mountains and of the lowest valleys, over heaven, in heaven, and under heaven.

God is present in all things in heaven and earth and seas, inspires all things, brings life to all things, is over all things and supports all things. God makes the light of the sun to shine, and surrounds the moon and stars, brings water to the deserts and places dry islands in the sea.

God’s Son lives as God lives, eternal and holy.

The Holy Spirit breathes in the Father and the Son, and the Holy Spirit lives in God the Christ.

And God is forever. Amen.

Prayers of the People

We now pray for the needs of all people throughout the world, remembering that we are God’s people and the hand of love on earth. Let us pray.

Blessed are you, O God, for your breath at the heart of creation from which the winds of joy and gladness come forth;

For the gentle breezes that bring coolness and refreshment.

Blessed are you, O God, for your breath at the heart of creation from which the winds of joy and gladness come forth;

For the gentle breezes that bring coolness and refreshment.

As we give thanks for the gift of life and for the comfort we receive in your holy presence, we pray for those places in our world and our lives where there is no joy or comfort; For communities in ruins and war-torn people and nations; for those held captive physically or emotionally. For those who are weary or weakened by troubles;

And those who are dying or frightened.

For the sick and the suffering, especially for those we remember today either silently or aloud. Today, we pray for Ernest, Charlotte, Mary Helen, Evan, Maria, Mary Irish, Pat, Beth, Candi, Bob, Jody and for those whom you wish to name either silently or aloud. We pray for those who are departed and for those who mourn. We ask for your comfort and your holy presence, O God.

For all people, for our loved ones, and for ourselves.

We pray to you, O God, asking that we may know your breath of love within us and that our lives may be a witness to that love and to your glory.

May God guide us with wisdom, help us with mercy, bless us with grace, and empower us with love; for the sake of Jesus Christ, our only mediator and advocate. Amen.

The Peace

God makes peace within us.

Let us claim it.

God makes peace between us.

Let us share it.

The Holy Communion

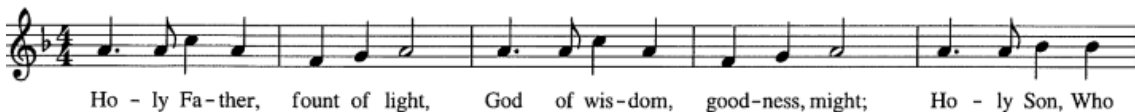

*All are welcome to receive communion at our Lord's table!
In addition to traditional consecrated bread and wine, consecrated gluten free hosts and grape juice are available upon request.*

Offertory Anthem: "Ithemba lami"

trad. South African

Translation: I will go with my faith when I go to heaven.

Doxology

God be with you.

And also with you.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them to God.

Let us give thanks to our God.

It is right to give God thanks and praise.

All things are yours, O God of creation.

And so, we return our gifts of treasure to you.

Blessed are you, O God of creation, through whose goodness we have this bread to offer, which earth has given and human hands have made.

May it become for us the bread of life.

Blessed are you, O God of creation, through whose goodness we have this wine to offer, fruit of the vine and work of human hands.

May it become for us the cup of blessing.

Receive these gifts, dear God, and accept in them the sacrifice of ourselves.

In life and in death may we be an offering forever.

We offer you praise and hearts lifted high, O God. You breathe into us your Spirit, and by the blowing of the gentle breeze, you remind us of the constancy of your loving presence. Your glory is in the breath of each created thing, and through your creation we see the holiness and wonder of your being. And so, with all the hosts of heaven and earth, with the wind that howls and the gentle breeze that soothes, we join in the praises of your unending greatness as we sing:

Sanctus:

Schubert

Ho - ly, ho - ly, ho - ly Lord, God of power and might, Ho - ly, ho - ly, ho - ly Lord, God of power and might, hea - ven and earth are full, full of your glo - ry. Ho - san - na in the high - est. Ho - san - na in the high - est. Bless - ed is he who comes _____ in the name of the Lord. _____ Ho - san - na

in the high - est. Ho - san - na in the high - est.

The image shows two staves of musical notation in G-flat major (one flat). The first staff contains the melody for the first line of the hymn, with lyrics 'in the name of the Lord. Ho - san - na'. The second staff contains the melody for the second line, with lyrics 'in the high - est. Ho - san - na in the high - est.' The music is written in a simple, hymn-like style with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat.

Blessed are you, O God, for the great day of salvation prepared from the beginning of the world, when Christ, though rejected on earth, will be seen by all to be chosen and precious in your sight. We bless you for Christ who carried sin's destructive powers to the cross that all people might be set free. Through Christ, you inspire in us the hope that earth's forces of darkness will be scattered, and the angels of glory and principalities of light will bring a new heaven and a new earth.

Just as prophets long before Christ had spoken of the sufferings that would be his, so Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and having blessed it, he broke the bread, and gave it to his disciples, saying: "Take, eat, this is my body which is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way, he took wine, and having given thanks for it, he gave the cup to his disciples, saying: "This cup is the New Covenant in my blood. Do this as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me."

Remembering his eternal self-giving, we proclaim the mystery of Christ among us. Made one with him and one with each other, we offer these gifts and with them ourselves, a single, holy living sacrifice.

Bless us with your Holy Spirit, O God, and bless this bread and this wine, that through them we may be made strong again with the strength that only you supply. May our inner selves be nourished that in the outward things of life we may follow the way of Christ and grow more and more into salvation, through Christ, by whom, with whom, and in whom, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all glory and honor is yours, Almighty God, world without end. Amen.

The Lord's Prayer

The Breaking of the Bread

The Bread of heaven is broken for the life of the world.

The cup or love is shared with all who seek God. Amen.

Fraction Anthem: Jesus, Lamb of God Agnus Dei

Je - sus, Lamb of God: have mer - cy on us.

Je - sus, bear - er of our sins: have mer - cy on us.

Je - sus, re - deem - er, re - deem - er of the world:

give us your peace. give us your peace.

Distribution of Communion

Communion Anthem: "O Lux Beatissima"

Howard Helvey

Translation: O light most blessed, fill the inmost heart of all your faithful.

Postcommunion Prayer

O God, in love you have called us to be your people and in love you have given us this bread and this wine, may this holy meal refresh us as a gentle and steady breeze, that renewed in your Holy Spirit, we may go forth into the world to serve your people; in the name of God, who is love. Amen.

God of all light, as we go forth into the world, we extinguish the lights that here represents the presence of the Holy in our midst.

But we will carry the light in our hearts, and we pray that as we go about our work in the world, we will shine with the love of God. Amen.

The Blessing

The power and peace of the Presence protect you. The grace and goodness of the saints inspire you. The good and gracious God go with you and keep you always. And the blessing of God, Creator, Redeemer, and Sustainer be with you now and forever. Amen.
